

Hotel & Travel

The Theatrical Translation as Creative Process: A Conference Festival II will be held at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in downtown Chapel Hill, NC. We have a hotel block reserved at the AC Hotel Chapel Hill, which is about a 10-15-minute walk from both the conference venue.

Air Travel

Airport: Raleigh-Durham International Airport (RDU) is about 15 miles outside of Chapel Hill.

You have several options for getting to/from the airport, but the simplest tends to be a taxi or rideshare (Uber/Lyft) and will cost $20-40 depending on the time of day.

Taking a bus from the airport is also an option, but is a bit more complicated. You would take the 100 bus from RDU Terminal 2 to GoTriangle Regional Transit Center. There you would transfer to the 800 Southpoint and Chapel Hill, getting off at South Rd at Bell Tower Dr and walking the rest of the way to the hotel or taking the CW. You can find additional route information here or refer to Google Maps directions.

Ground Travel

The Durham train and bus stations are located in downtown Durham and are connected to Chapel Hill by the 400 and 405 busses. Amtrak, Greyhound, and Megabus all have stops in Durham.

The train station is located at 601 W Main St #103 Durham, NC 27701 and the bus station is located at 515 W Pettigrew St, Durham, NC 27701.

Getting Around and Parking in Chapel Hill

AC Hotel parking for overnight guests of the hotel is discounted to $10/day. For non-overnight guests at the AC, daily parking with rates of ~$1.00/hour. There are several lots on Franklin and Rosemary Sts. Try the 140 West Parking Garage at 213 West Rosemary Street, Chapel Hill, NC 27516.

Within Chapel Hill, bus service is free (graciously subsidized by the University) and fairly regular. You can find information about bus routes and schedules here.

Uber and Lyft are also both active in the area and are an excellent option.

Venue

Conference events will take place in two separate locations, as marked in the program: The Gillings Center for Dramatic Art and Toy Lounge in Dey Hall.
